

Looking for a River

(lyrics & music by Joe Scott, Janjoral Publishing/BMI)

I've been looking for a river
One that I can call my own
I've been looking for a friend
And when I meet him I will know
When I find the flowing river
In a boat I will go
And I'll take my new friend
'Cause he will help me when I row

*Chorus: And together we will row, row, row
Don't you know we need to row, row, row
Everybody's got to row, row, row
And down this river we will go*

I've been waiting for a sunrise
Oh the nights they've been so long
I've been looking to the east
And the beauty of the dawn
When I see the first light
In a boat I will go
And I'll take my old friend
'Cause she will help me when I row

Chorus

I've been looking for a river
One that I can call my own
And I've been looking for a friend
When I meet him I will know
Every night and every day
I swear I hear the people say
In this boat they'd like to go
And together find our way
