

Run Away Home

(lyrics & music by Joe Scott, Janjoral Publishing BMI)

On the second floor she lives alone
The lights are on but she's not really home
It might sound crazy but if you listen close
Sometimes you'll hear her cry, she wants to

*Chorus: Run away, run away, run away home
These voices she hears, wish they'd leave her alone
Run away, run away, run away home
She's running so scared, and all alone*

A deep struggle just to get through the day
There was a time when it wasn't this way
She has a heart of gold, a child within,
Sometimes you'll hear her cry, she wants to

Chorus

She says, I want you to hear me
I need to know you care
I want you to see me
I need to know you're there

On Thursdays she's at the art center
To play guitar and sing her song
Her voice is soft, her words so gentle
I watch her play and want to tell her let's

*Chorus: Run away, run away, run away home
These voices you hear, will leave you alone
Run away, run away, run away home
I'll take your hand and tell you*

I want you to hear me
I need to know you care
I want you to see me
I need to know you're there

*Chorus: And we'll run away, run away, run away home
These voices we hear will leave us alone
When we run away, run away, run away home
I'll take your hand, we'll not be alone*

Chorus
